Stalemate for Next 2 Months Spells Defeat for Hitler

Now, please don't get the mistaken idea that I say the war is over. It isn't by a damned sight. Hitler is on his way out but he still has all the ferocity and fighting strength of a cornered rat.

We have bloody days before us.
The Allies will suffer defeats and disappointments but he will suffer defeats.

disappointments before we are through. The rat still has to be clubbed into submission. However, in the view of many experts, that dirty but satisfying job can be done by perhaps a year from now if we approach it rightly.

The prediction that Hitler would be rendered vulnerable to a death thrust if he arrived in his present state by the end of the year was based on two thoughts:

I. Lacking fresh resourses and strategical bases which would go with them, he would be unable to repair the colossal damage suffered

2. Meantime, the United States 2. Meantime, the United States and Britain would have been piling up strength and would be able to jump on him in his weakness.

Well, the first condition seems fulfilled. Upon fulfillment of the second condition depends whether we may be able to bert the Mazianti Christ by, say, next, fall or whether the war will drag on interminably Everything depends on the speed with which we act and

I have tried to make it clear in ty last two artaicals that a concentrated Anglo - American air attack on western Europe and Germany would turn the trick if undertaken at once. That is the concensus of many military observers.

We have a double mission to perform. We must hit Hitler immediately while he still is groggy from exertions in Russia. We must prepare the way for that second land front which will give th gallant Russians the relief they need.

Russians the relief they need.
Only by a devastating aerial preparation can the ground be cleared for invasion. To attempt to land an army without this would be mass murder. And this preparation will kill two birds with one stone for it not only would render invasion feasible but at the same time render Hitler terribly vulnerable by depriving him of his main war industries and means of transport.

I have pointed out that there are whole military targets can be wiped out in a single raid. There is no unproven theory nivolved.

Your Colognes and Rostovs and places clearly demonstrate the possibilities.

If the Allies try to land half a million boys on the shores of France without ample air preparation you are going to see a slaughter that will rock the world. Dunkerque will be a Sunday school pic-

That's what would happen if we tried to land an army in the face of enemy strength which had not been whittled down first by air assault. Apart from the terrible cost in lives, there would be vast loss in ships and material. But with Hitler's industrial resources and transport levelled terrible. transport levelled by bombers, invasion would lose the most terrible of its dangers.

In turning to the air we don't In turning to the air we don't have to become extremists at the expense of the other fighting branches. Warplanes aren't going to win this war single - handed. A Good Show Despite Big City Critics

By GEORGE TUCKER
New York — The other night
I sat in the Longacre theater and saw the opening performance of
"Let Freedom, Sing," a topical revue staged by the Youth Theatre.
I laughed until the tears leakd.
Several women around me were
close to hysteria at times.

Next day I read in the papers that it all had been a mistake, the show wasn't funny, the material was lame, and this, and that and the other thing was all wrong.

Usually I can shrug off such differences of opinion. The critics are right most of the time, and they see more shows than I do, they see more shows than I do, which gives them a better back-ground. In this case, unfortunately, their fairly unanimous verdict leaked at the seams. They seemed determined not to like the show but thir reasons differd to the point of ridiculations. the point of ridiculousness.

I wouldn't be making a case for "Let Freedom Sing" except for these inconsistencies, particularly these inconsistencies, particularly the criticisms of the scenery. There is a war on, but apparently this particular critic overlooked the fact.

For the last ten months the Broadway stage has been talking vaguely of doing without this and that material for its settings, and I for one was beginning to wonder

With the crying demand for good comedians, I can't imagine why they haven't been turned loose sooner on a laugh-hungry public. Gould left the cast of the Ray Bolger show "By Jupiter," to join "Let Freedom Sing," but his talents were wasted in the former show, and Leeds hasn't been on Breedway since the left effering show, and Leeds hasn't been on Broadway since the last offering of the Youth Theatre, "Of V We Sing," a year or so ago.

Gould is fairly tall and stocky, and Leeds on the wispy and waspy side, but they both dish up zany, preposterous helly-laugh human side, but they born dish up zany, preposterous, belly-laugh humor that's good for you and doesn't have to be analyzed in a test tube.

Anna Neagle Is Sincere War Worker

By GEORGE TUCKER New York—If you should run into a trim blonde having the hint of an Irish accent and wearing the patty dark blue uniform of the civilian defense worker—alphabetical-iv, the CDVO — there's a good chance it will be Anna Neagle, the

Anna has become one of four most active and sincere women war, workers. She seems to be making a career out of something started by her roles in photo plays: You can't, it seems, por tray Nurse Edith Cavell, or Amy Mollison as she does in the new British-made film "Wings and the Woman," without absorbing the crusading spirit of them both. She is the type of woman who looks well in uniform but not the type who wears it for effect. She ias a contagious enthusiasm for the things she is doing and a fine contempt for those women who are using the war to put themselves in the spotlight. It wasn't for publicity that Anna, after making the Mollison picture under the fire of a London blitz, went on a tiring war bond drive through Canada, or spent her brief vaca-tion in New York making appear-ances in behalf of the CDVO. Her stidlo-claims—and for once I am not skeptical—that it knew little of ther plans:

One thing I have liked about Anna Neagle since I first met her is that she is a good listener as well as a good conversationalist. Tremember a cocktail party in the honor in which she was possitibly the most inconspicuous person present. While a couple of film company objectives bustled about supportantly, Anna sat quietly, but graciously, in a corner. She didn't suffer for attention, but neither did she seek it. She's not quite five feet five, and weighs only 118 pounds, but has a fighter's chin and thinks women can do a great deal more about winning the war than they are now doing. She is thoroughly sold on women replacing men ferry pilots, for one thing.

When I saw her the other day, wearing a uniform and what grand-mother used to call "good sensible shoes," she smiled in that easy, girlish way which recalled her film successes in "Irene" and "Sunny."

"The shoes aren't yery glamor. "The shoes aren't very glamor-ous, are they?" she said. But you can see I am a vain actress after all, for I cheated a little on the stockings. They are one-thread and not the least bit sensible.'

Camden to Be Plenty Tough for Bobcats

The Hope high school Bobeat football team will be gunning for a second conference win here Friday night when they tangle with the steadily improving Camden Panthers at Hammons stadium.

The Panthers gave the conference leading Pine Bluff Zebras plenty of trouble last Friday night, holding them to a 13-6 score. The Camden boys lost to Smackover in their opening game but hold lopsided victories over Texarkana, a team which Hope beat 18-6, and Prescott.

team which Hope beat 18-6, and Prescott.
The Hope team also holds decisions over Smackover, and Jonesboro and have lost to Nashville and El Dorado.

J. C. McCullough, main Bobeat scoring threat who is recovering from an ailment which held him out of last week's game, will start against Camden. Floyd Chance, veteran end, will start in the backfield, and is expected to turn in some much-needed blocking.

The game will start at 8 o'clock. Admission for adults is 55c. A large crowd is expected.

Will of People Has Bearing on Senate Action

By JACK STINNETT
Washington—If there is any doubt what influence the "will of the people" exercises on legislation, just recall the Senate action on the anti-inflation bill.

In spite of the Presidents ultimation that the bill would have to be passed immediately, the Senate farm bloc was in the saddle.

In the carly days of the battle, it appeared that the farm bloc, with its Thomas amendment ordering a redefinition of parity prices, couldn't be defeated.

Then on a single weekend the farm bloe balloon collapsed. The so-called "compromise" amendment was passed with only four dissenting votes and the original antitinflation bill, sponsored by Administration legislators, was voted unanimously—82 to 0.

Back of this is another one of those heartening stories of the tri-umph of our democraticsystem. It is as cumbersome as an ox-cart It is as cumbersome as an ox-cart on a superhighway. Often it appears just about that ridiculous. But whenever it tangles with any subject that arouses the real interest or fire of the public, it whips into line with the speed and drive of a modern tank.

As a matter of fact, the farm bloc fight collapsed even before the favorable vote on the Thomas parity amendment. That vote was "for the record"—proof in print that the senators who have to face their farm constituents had done their best.

Proponents of the amendment knew already that they were beaten. Why? Because the mail bags day after day gave proof of two things: (1) That the public in general was almost four square back of the President in demand-with the Administration.

Sitting here in Washington, watching the often tedious, day-to-day, hour-after-hour maneuvering, the cloakroom and "forthe-record" politicking, it's easy to lose sight of the effectiveness of that intangible something called "public demand." But old timers here, hashing over the Senate anti-inflation battle are saying again what they have said many times since this national emergency arose: Never before has public opinion been so quickly effective in remming legislation through.

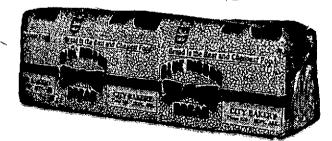

Actuall the antiinflation scrap in the Senate, in spite of all the thunderheads, was a pretty tame affair on the surface. Except for masterful speech in which Sen. Prentiss M. Brown (D-Mich.) in troduced the Administration bill, of which he was coauthor and the calm plea of Majority Leader Al-

Of course, if you don't want to wait for a career to come to you, you can back into one the way Gloria Gilbert has done. When she was three years old she had such a bad habit of hunching her shoulders that her doctor recommended she be sent to a dancing school to attain correct posture.

With that beginning, Gloria won cups in New England amateur dancing contests, then turned professional at the ripe old age of 15. Today she is featured at the Versailles as the only girl who can spin on her toes 500 times in three minutse. It seems she can't do anything but spin, either, for although she works out new routines and wants to do ballet, the customers seem fascinated by her old routines and demand more spins.

Gloria doesn't get dizzy doing her dance because she fixes her eyes on an object in the audience but fast elvators make her lose her breath.

Change of Land Assessment Is Challenged

Little Rock, Oct. 22—(A)—The validity of act 282 of 1939, authorizing county assessors to reduce assessments on tax-forfeited city and farm property without stating rea-son for the action, was under fire today in Pulaski chancery court. The act, under which assessments on more than 200,000 acres have been reduced with resulting revenue loss to the state, was challenged in a test suit filed in the name of J.R. Scott, DeQueen tax payer, by the state land use committee. The suit sought to restrain Land Commissioner Bush Binley from issuing deeds to lands whose from issuing deeds to lands whose assessment have been reduced under the law.

The measure replaced Act 296 of 1937 which authorized assessors, upon certification by the county The synod concluded its annual surveyor, to reduce assessments on meeting here today.

The suit charged that reductions made under Act 282 were unreas-onable and that the act had been superseded by the 1939 land policy act which became law seven days after Act 282

Land use committee spokesmen sadi subsequent legal action would be taken in an effort to set aside tax deeds to the 202,626 acres sold or redeemed under Act 282. A sample survey by the Arkansas office of the bureau of agricultural economics showed 1,429 redemption deeds had been issued in 59 counties under Act 282, reducing assessments an average of 67 per cent.

Must Intensify Fight Against Prostitution

Hot Springs, Oct. 22 —(P) Reporting that probably 50 per cent of the venereal disease cases in the navy stem from professional prostitutes, Capt. C. S. Stephenson of the navy's division of preventive medicine, warned today that local efforts to repress red light districts must be intensified.

The naval officer, in an address

The naval officer, in an address prepared for the dtlivery before the U.S. Public Health Service's National conference on venereal control needs in wartime, reported that in 12 states and the District of Columbia, from Jan. 1 to Sept. 19 of this year, sailors afflicted with venereal disease lost enough sick time to man an aircraft carsick time to man an aircraft carrier more than a month.

The areas were Virginia, California, New York, Florida, Washington, Texas, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Maine, Pennsylvania, District of Columbia, Rhode Island and Lousiiana, listed in order of the estimated total sick days lost in each as the result of venereal disease.

lost in each as the result of venereal disease,
Blaming commercialized prostitution and related froms of exploitation for the spread of such disease, Captain Stephenson said to meet this there was a need for adequate, imaginative recreation establishment of a bettre informed and active public opinion; development of a more reasonable and kindly relationship between civikindly relationship between civilians and service men; and adequate, accessible venereal disease treatment facilities.

Stepchnson said parents of young men joining the Navy had a "right to expect everything possible will be done to protect the health well being of thier loved ones.

He decribed the sailor prone to infection as "the young fellow on his first enlistment between his second and third year in the navy."

"Local efforts to secure the active and continued application of repressive (to prostitution) measures must be intensified," he said.
"Where these fail full considera-Where these fail, full consideration must be given to invocation of the Mann act. For repression does work. It must work and now. There is positively no time for vacillation."

The conference attracted some 200 doctors, purses and technicians from the United States and Mexico. Included were numerous representatives of the Army, Navy and sentatives of the Army, Navy and Air forces. Also present were emembers of the American Neisserian Medical Society, meeting in conjunction with the conference.

Speaking for the Army, Lieut.
Col. T. B. Turner, director of the Army's preventive medicine division. Army's preventive medicine division, said the "problem now is becoming one of call girls, pickups, bar maids, waitresses and the

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to determine just who is and who is not a prostitute."

Colonel Turner said the Army knew that organized commercial prostitution could be controlled but the newer problem lacked a solution.

tion.
"The mass movement of

ple, the relative social freedom that women have gained and the release from the fear of pregnancy afforded by modern knowledge of contraception all make for an increase in sexual promiscuity," he declared. He said this went with a rise in the venereal disease rate. disease rate, Turner recommended that
